

ISO Re-Certification

On December 14, 2008, Precision Cable Assemblies received re-certification to the ISO 9001:2000 standard renewing our commitment to customer satisfaction and continual improvement.

The ISO Executive Management committee continues to track our continual improvement toward our established goals. As goals are reached new bench marks are established to continue satisfying the needs of our customers.